The background of the entire poster is a complex collage of geometric shapes, including circles, squares, and lines in various shades of gray, black, and red. A large, stylized hammer and sickle symbol is prominently featured in the center, rendered in black and white. To its right, there are several concentric white arcs on a black background, resembling a radio signal or a stylized 'S'. Below the central symbol, there is a red circle containing a black hammer and sickle and three white concentric arcs.
